

Job Title	M&A Pricing Associate
Location	London
Company	Resolution Life Group Services Ltd.
Reports to	M&A Pricing Principal
Group Wide Internal Level	Associate

Position Summary

Within the M&A and reinsurance team, the incumbents support new deal pricing and assume broader responsibilities across the full life cycle from strategy, due diligence, and implementation.

It's essential that these individuals have a wealth of life insurance experience where they have been involved with pricing and/or working with M&A teams.

As these two roles are newly created, the exact responsibilities may evolve around the individual, based on the level of current experience. The individuals have the opportunity to develop and progress in-line with the continued pace and ambition of the organisation; and they're expected to learn new skills outside of their current subject-matter expertise.

Profile

As a successful candidate you have a unique blend of skills and experience including:

- Qualified actuaries (1-3 years PQE) with significant exposure of end-to-end pricing, ideally with actuarial life insurance and M&A experience.
- Numeracy / Modelling – You hold a high level of analytical skill and financial numeracy. Modelling capabilities, particularly with excel is an advantage.
- Vision / Innovation – You're an innovative thinker, comfortable challenging of status quo, pro-active at planning and preparing for a more complex working environment. You ensure increases in scale don't negatively impact performance. You have technical competence and a willingness to pursue technical solutions to business problems.
- Relationship Management – As a strong communicator, you're skilled at interacting with global teams, a wide range of stakeholders and supporting negotiation.

Your Characteristics

Candidates must demonstrate a solution-focused, trouble-shooting mindset, work well autonomously, have a high amount of responsibility and integrity, and a fearless approach; while always applying learning should previous experience not cover the diversity of challenge presented.

Resolution Life is committed to diversity, equity and inclusion and seeks to build a strong diverse team across their global business.
