Resolution Life announces date for CEO transition

- Resolution Life confirms date for previously announced CEO transition effective July 1, 2026
- Moses Ojeisekhoba, Resolution Life President, to become CEO
- Sir Clive Cowdery, founder, Chairman and CEO, to continue as Executive Chairman

HAMILTON, BERMUDA - Resolution Life, a global life insurance group focusing on the acquisition and management of portfolios of life insurance policies, today announced that its Board of Directors has appointed Moses Ojeisekhoba as CEO of Resolution Life with effect from July 1, 2026. Moses will succeed Sir Clive Cowdery, who will continue in his role as Executive Chairman.

Moses joined Resolution Life as President in October 2024, from Swiss Re, where he spent over 12 years in multiple senior executive positions. Since joining Resolution Life, he has led the team to a year of record capital deployment, directed our market-facing division, and worked on the integration of Resolution Life into Nippon Life throughout the course of 2025.

Clive, whose first business under the Resolution Life brand was formed in 2003, has been at the forefront of the life insurance consolidation sector for more than 20 years. The completion of the acquisition of Resolution Life by Nippon Life marks the fourth time Clive has founded, built and sold a consolidation and reinsurance company, raising and deploying more than $20bn of equity to support the global life insurance industry. Clive will continue in his current role as Executive Chairman, and he will also assist Nippon Life as they further their international expansion.
